

Ministry of Agriculture and
Environmental Protection
Serbia

STANA BOZOVIC

LEADER.MOTIVATOR.SUPPORTER

Stana Bozovic, born in 1962, lives in Belgrade, Serbia. She graduated from the Faculty of Special Education and Rehabilitation in Belgrade and obtained an MA in International Business. She also holds a PhD in Environmental Management and Sustainable Development. Stana is currently the State Secretary for the Serbian Ministry of Agriculture and Environmental Protection, Chief of the Negotiation team for Chapter 27 and is Vice President of the Political Council for Implementation of UN Resolution 1325. In the position of State Secretary, she affirms and shapes, but also challenges, gender relations in several areas of her activities, promoting women in decision-making positions, where appropriate. She has also initiated a research study on the impact of the environment on gender. With respect to her political engagement, Stana is one of the founders of the Serbian Progressive Party and President of the Council for Child Protection and Social Affairs within the Party.